

6516207788.txt

Broadcast radio has failed to provide varied and satisfactory programming. Satellite radio is the best thing that has happened to radio in decades. Satellite radio should not be prevented from broadcasting local weather and traffic. This competition is good for radio and is the only incentive for broadcast radio to improve programming.